

Frisco Day School HOA Meeting – Request to Participate

Overview

Frisco Day School is a proposed development at the northwest corner of Coit Road and Eldorado Parkway in Frisco, Texas. Frisco Day School is committed to the community and we believe this facility is consistent with the intentions of the original zoning and adjacent development.

The intended use is an educational day school expected to accommodate 152 children ages 12 weeks to kindergarten. The school offers early preschool, preschool, kindergarten programs, summer camps, and parent conferences.

Teachers at Frisco Day School are degreed and certified individuals committed to acting as positive, supportive, nurturing, and responsive role models. Frisco Day School strives to provide a safe, caring environment, with educational experiences to enrich and enhance each child’s intellectual, language, social, emotional, physical, and creative development. Frisco Day School’s vision is to train students to become leaders and citizens for future generations.

Why?

The City of Frisco suggests that along with submittal of a Special Use Permit, that management and representatives meet with home owners of the adjacent property. This provides an opportunity to discuss the intended use of the development as well be available for any questions that the home owners may have. City of Frisco planning staff will be in attendance as well.

We appreciate your attendance and support at the HOA meeting.
